When technical documentation is required by the ITB, its purpose is to demonstrate compliance of the product bid with applicable technical requirements of the ITB and to allow a technical evaluation of the product. Failure to provide the required technical documentation will make the Respondent non-responsive, unless JAA, in its sole discretion and in the best interest of JAA, determines the acceptability of the products offered through technical documentation available within JAA as of the date and time of bid opening. Such authority of JAA will in no way relieve the Respondent from the ultimate responsibility to submit the required technical documentation, nor will any Respondent assume that such documentation is otherwise available to JAA. To receive an Approved Equivalent rating for components or equipment that is different from those in the technical specifications, the Respondent must submit to JAA, in writing, a request for approval, along with all supporting specifications and documentation. If the proposed corrective action is not acceptable to JAA, JAA may refuse final acceptance of the Commodity, in which case the Commodity will remain the property of the Respondent and JAA will not be liable for payment for the same or any portion thereof.
