Questions and Answers

Q1. Can a bidder still qualify if they subcontract waste hauling to a permitted subcontractor versus carrying the permit themselves?

A1. Yes, if permitted by law and provided that waste collected is handled, at all times, in a manner consistent with all applicable industry, legal, and environmental requirements and standards. However, the Respondent, as the Prime Contractor, is solely responsible for its conduct and compliance as well as that of any of its subcontractors.

Q2. If our costs rise during the initial 3-year period, can we adjust our pricing to the percentage of the inflation increase?

A2. No.

Q3. Are we able to upload our pricing sheet separately or does it have to be merged/included in the bid form file?

A3. A single file is preferred, but JAA will accept separate documents if necessary.

Q4. Can you confirm that the Draft Contract (Exhibit D) and Certificates of Insurance are handled after the bid has been accepted?

A4. Correct. These documents will be handled after a successful respondent, if any, is selected. Note that no contract modifications ("redlines") will be entertained at that time.

Q5. For Section A of the Bid Form, are we supposed to type out all those statements and have it signed electronically or is there a specific format you're looking for?

A5. Respondents should submit a letter on company letterhead. An electronic signature is acceptable.
